

Background

England Boxing is the National Governing Body for the one of the oldest sports in the world, one which has featured in the ancient and modern Olympics since 1904.

With its own heritage going back to the 1880s, the organisation is responsible for promoting and developing the sport at all levels, from grass roots through to the England talent pathway, and in turn passing prospective medallists to GB Boxing. The organisation is a member of AIBA and EUBU, the World and European governing bodies respectively.

The organisation has recently produced an ambitious strategy and plan for the next four years. As a result, the governing body is going through rapid change and the sport is experiencing growth in both competitive and recreational boxing. It has also been successful in delivering medals at various men's and women's representative international competitions. This success provides excellent opportunities to improve the commercial income of the sport and less reliance on public body funding in line with the overall strategy.
