Leadership or Management

What will it be today?

Management

During this difficult time for Boxing, I am sure that all of you have taken on some sort of change management, whether that be in your work, at home or as a coach.

Our management ability is key to the success of a club and the success of our boxers

Being a good manager relies on you being able to deliver consistently on several functions

Functions Of Management

Fayol's 6 Functions of Management

England Boxing Needs Leaders

Leadership is more about motivation, inspiration and being in the forefront of things

We all like to think we are good leaders but what does being a leader actually mean?

When looking at being coaches during this tough time for our sport, we have all be called upon to dig deep into our leadership abilities

What else
we should be doing as a good leader?

Where do you see yourself, as a leader, in the EB community?

- England Boxing's vision needs all its coaches to deliver a robust, inspired, leadership approach to ensure the security of our sport.
- Your passion, drive and determination will be called upon to chaperone the way forward and we need your inspiration to keep our boxers motivated.
- Do not hide your innovation, bring it forward, lead the wider EB community to see your vision you will be surprised how well it will be received.

Can you become one of England
Boxing's drivers for the future?

There is always time to develop ourselves

Thanks to Barry Philpott for this coaching nudge.
